

Clique & Clicks ▶ Get Spotted

Actor and TV presenter Manasseh Nyaga with rapper Chris Kaiga.

Media personality Talia Oyando.

KBL influence and advocacy manager Patrick Githinji.

THE BEER KINGDOM

KBL innovations brand manager Sammy Gichiru, master brewer Valentine Wambui, head of marketing-beer Annejoy Michira and innovations marketing manager Rachel Wariko.

by Faith Kyoumukama

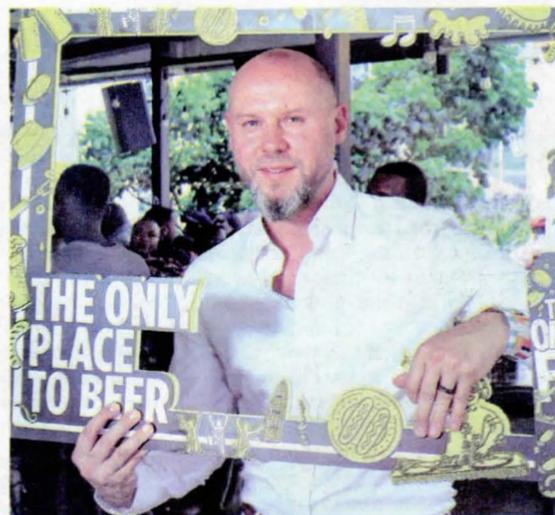

The Kenya Breweries Ltd (KBL) through its flagship beer brand Tusker recently announced the return of Kenya's biggest beer festival Oktoberfest. This year's fest dubbed 'A Festival Dekonstruced' kicked off on Saturday all through to the end of October. Tusker aims to reach consumers across Kenya with in-bar experiences in more than 70 bars across the country, and performances from over 150 Kenyan artistes. Some of the headline acts include Khaligraph Jones, Mejja, Matata, Femi One, Buruklyn Boyz, Wakadinali, Ssar, Silverstone Barz, and Chris Kaiga.

PD/ALEX MBURU

Hip-hop group Buruklyn Boyz.

AfricaCentric Entertainment founder and MD Marek Fuchs.

Go, gain knowledge

by Christine Musa

Bamburi Cement growth and strategy director Miriam Ngolo.

Bamburi Cement recently awarded deserving students from Kajiado county with full tuition scholarships for secondary education. This was part of the company's commitment to the community by empowering the youth and marginalised through education and upskilling programmes. The scholarships will cater for full tuition fees, uniform, and back to school shopping. Among the present were Bamburi Cement Nairobi Grinding Plant manager Johnson Macharia, the firm's growth and strategy director Miriam Ngolo and her human resource and sustainability counterpart Irene Wamanga.

PD/CHRISTINE MUSA

Bamburi Cement Nairobi Grinding Plant manager Johnson Macharia (right) gives a word of advise to the six beneficiaries.

Solomon Kisemoi, a parent to one of the beneficiary.

Oloosirikon Location Senior Chief Wilson Kaloi.

Bamburi Cement HR and sustainability director Irene Wamanga.